

Learn an in-demand skill while giving back to the community.

Bicycle repair skills are needed, but technicians are hard to find. Become trained in this nationally recognized program, and learn the skills necessary to work for big name bike companies, and even to fix your own bike!

Working with community police offices, bikes repaired under this program are donated to underprivileged elementary school children.

Cycle Back is recognized by the Bicycle Trade Association of Canada (BTAC).

Cycle Back Training Program

Cycle Back Training Program

Learn the skills to be in demand in the growing bicycle repair industry.

Program Overview

This 8 week program features

- theory combined with practical application
- real service in a working repair shop while you learn
- Practicum work experience of up to two weeks that could lead to employment

Who are students?

Suitable for men and women of any working age, students have a willingness to work with the public, and have some mechanical ability. They have a common desire to make a better life for themselves, and a desire for the training and support to get there.

Learning Style

Enjoy learning with experienced and caring staff in a hands-on setting.

Each student will be assigned a mentor who will coach them during the first year of their career.

Program Financing

Tuition, texts, and fees may be fully funded if you are referred from Lookout Emergency Aid Society, or a recognized referring Agency. Call to ask for more details.

Additional

- WHMIS (Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System)
